

I signed up for the DO-NOT-CALL list for a purpose. I am tired of people being able to contact me anytime they feel like it. It is bad enough that some people do not have to follow the rules and I can be bothered with people wanting money all the time. Why can't I get their phone numbers and call them to tell them I want money. Also I do not want to be bothered by Credit Card companies. Credit Cards caused a problem in our marriage once and I do not want it again. Leave my telephone number along. I do not want to be bothered by anyone when I get home. Especially when they use up time on my answering machine
